Kids 'Identify' With Hospital Toys That Skate

NEW YORK (AP) — A gaily dressed young woman held up a selection of dolls for the child to select from among fairy princess, a bride, a skater. Shyly, the crippled child picked the skater.

"The children identify with the dolls," says Clare Young, the 48-year-old Forest Hills, Queens, housewife who founded Volun-toys, a program for distributing toys in New York hospitals.

"The skater is a very, very popular doll," she says. "It does their skating and walking for them."

What makes Volun-toys different from other programs is that the 30 volunteers who make up the organization provide toys on a year-round basis, not just during the holidays.

They also send two Dutch-capped young girls to visit the children while distributing the toys, and they also try to make toys available in emergency rooms.

It was, in fact, in an emergency room where Mrs. Young was doing volunteer work that she saw most poignantly the need for toys.

"After an accident, the child may be all right. But while they are checking the mother, I've seen a child sit in a corner more than two hours—not making a sound, just petrified," she said.

Mrs. Young has been hospitalized herself 18 times—primarily because of a back injury—and says she can well understand "what it's like to have a little bit of kindness and the need to have it."

For her Christmas present last year, she asked her husband to give her enough money to buy toys to distribute in the coming year at one hospital.

He agreed. And while she was shopping for the toys, a Queens toy store owner, gave her 500 fashion dolls which had been returned in a trade-in sales promotion.

The Health Department provided instructions for cleaning the dolls, and Mrs. Young and a small group of friends began making costumes.

As women will, one told another and another—and soon there were 30 happily outfitting dolls.

The group eventually became Volun-toy, Inc., complete with a Madison Avenue office—also donated—and quite a following among the hospital set.

National Unity Will Be Nixon Government Theme

Wait On Nixon Is Expected To Slow Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, convening Jan. 3, is expected to get off to a slow start while waiting for Richard M. Nixon to take office and submit his legislative program.

One exception could be an attempt to obtain Senate ratification of a treaty designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Democratic leaders also may try to win Senate confirmation of some recent appointments made by President Johnson after the 90th Congress adjourned in October.

At the start of a new Congress, especially when there is a change at the White House, the legislative processes move more slowly. Pending legislation does not carry over and members generally mark time until the new president submits specific proposals although they could introduce bills if they wanted to.

Consent Of Senate

The nuclear nonproliferation treaty, submitted by President Johnson last summer, is in a different category and needs only the consent of the Senate.

Nixon has voiced concern over some of its provisions and has given no clear indication of how he feels about the timing of Senate action.

Just how quickly Nixon will be ready to submit specific proposals after his Jan. 20 inauguration is uncertain, but House and Senate committees will have to conduct hearings on them before they are brought up for floor action.

Since the Democrats will continue to have majorities in both branches—58-42 in the Senate, 243-192 in the House—organization of Congress will be less of a task than if there had been a change in party control.

Leadership Posts

There is a potential scrap, however, among Senate Republicans over leadership posts and there are rumblings in the House about attempting to unseat Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

One of the initial tasks of Congress will be to hold a joint session Jan. 6 to count the Electoral College votes to make official the election of Nixon and his vice presidential running mate, Spiro T. Agnew.

If past practice is followed, Johnson will send his farewell State of the Union message to Congress rather than deliver it in person.

Death Penalty Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court, in ruling that the death penalty is constitutional, apparently opened the door to new penalty trials for almost all the 85 men and one woman now awaiting the San Quentin gas chamber.

The convictions stand. But the court also ruled Monday that juries in two cases on appeal will have to decide, once again, whether death or life imprisonment should be imposed as punishment.

By extension, the principle applies to most of the other 84 cases, said Steve Raston, West Coast director of the legal defense fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which filed the appeals more than a year ago.

Communication Improvements Will Be Means

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon, relaxing today in island solitude, intends to make unity in a divided nation a keynote theme of his Republican administration. But the plans for achieving this aim are more methodical than dramatic.

The most important single thread in this effort is summed up in one word: communication. Nixon stressed it constantly in the more philosophical speeches of his campaign. Now he is considering how best to attain it.

Nixon was resting today on small, privately owned island in the Bahamas. He summed himself and read in privacy on Mermaid Beach in the Grand Cay group of the Bahama Islands, 140 miles northeast of Key Biscayne.

Unity Seeking

Nixon flew there Monday by Coast Guard helicopter, with no advance announcement, accompanied only by his friend, C. G. Rebozo, and his Secret Service guards. He spent the night on the island, owned by Robert Abplanalp, a Bronxville, N.Y., businessman.

When he returns to work on the transition of government, Nixon is expected to have more meetings in a unity-seeking pattern he already has set, with leaders from various segments of American society.

He held such sessions in New York Friday, meeting with a businessman, Frederick Keppel, then a union president, George Meany, then a Negro leader, Whitney Young of the national Urban League.

His inaugural address on Jan. 20 is expected to stress the unity quest. The first broad outlines of that speech are taking shape as Nixon and a handful of aides relax in the sun.

Best News Media

Nixon also sees communication through the press, and directly to the nation through television, as important elements in the unification effort.

He is pondering now the best manner in which to deal with the news media, has promised an open administration and one in which policymakers will be accessible for public statements. He has sought out the opinions of newsmen on this phase of his planning.

The national unity effort also is a factor in his consideration of selections to the Cabinet. It will, Nixon has pledged, include Democrats.

Nixon aides indicate that the effort to make Cabinet choices which will enhance a sense of unity accounts for the moratorium on appointments outside the immediate White House staff.

Nixon reportedly wants the men who can help allay unrest in the nation, and wants plenty of time to seek them out. He therefore announced at the outset that no Cabinet choices would be revealed before Dec. 5.

$30,000 In Toes

BOSTON (AP) — Police arrested a man with three $10,000 bills between his toes and charged him with receiving stolen property.

Howard Skar, 21, of Boston, was arrested Monday after police received a tip.

Police said the money was part of $67,000 stolen from a car belonging to Scott Ferguson of Boston and Denver, Ferguson, a stockbroker, told police he acquired the cash by liquidating some stock before driving to Boston from Colorado.

New York Students Return To Classes

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 1.1 million public school children returned to their studies today after a prolonged and bitter teachers' strike that cost most youngsters seven weeks of classes.

Police headquarters said there were no reports of trouble as the school doors reopened.

There was a sense of relief Monday after members of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers approved settlement terms. Most city, state and union officials were gratified, parents were pleased and even the pupils were happy.

An 8-year-old boy attending a Greenwich Village elementary school threw his arms around his teacher and gave her a kiss.

It was the third time since the strike began Sept. 9 that the predominantly white, 55,000-member UFT had gone back to the classroom. Two earlier settlements broke down and the walkout was renewed.

State Watchdog

Upon word of the UFT ratification, a state trustee officially took over operation of the controversial Ocean Hill-Brownsville experimentally decentralized school district in Brooklyn.

It was the summary dismissal of 79 white teachers from the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill district that led to the strike. A state watchdog committee has now been set up to oversee their return.

The Ocean Hill trustee, Herbert F. Johnson, associate state education commissioner, said he was putting off their return until Wednesday to allow time to work out class assignments.

Albert Shanker, president of the UFT, said the watchdog panel "represents a strong hope that the schools and their teachers will be safe from harassment and intimidation." He charged the two earlier settlements fell apart because Ocean Hill militants tried to prevent UFT teachers from entering classrooms.

Contempt Charge

Shanker still faces a charge of contempt under the state's Taylor Law which forbids strikes by public employees. He could receive up to 30 days in jail with the union fined $10,000 per strike day. The court hearing is not yet completed.

The strike, the longest teachers' walkout in the city's history, closed most of the city's 900 public schools for 36 school days and provoked racial and religious animosity between the Negro slums and the largely Jewish UFT.

In commenting on the strike's end, Mayor John V. Lindsay said: "I hope we can begin now to heal the divisions this strike has opened and to turn our attention to the real possibilities for educational greatness this city can achieve."

Speculative Frenzy Subsides For Francs

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle conferred with Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and Finance Minister Francois-Xavier Ortoli on the European financial crisis today amid signs that the speculative frenzy was subsiding.

European money markets opened with heavy pressure on the British pound but on an otherwise quieter note following Couve de Murville's confident but vaguely phrased announcement that the Western industrial nations would not permit the French franc to collapse.

In a nationwide television interview Monday night, Couve de Murville partly blamed France's unbalanced budget for France's economic problems and announced austerity measures including a credit squeeze and cuts in subsidies to railroads and other public utilities.

Couve de Murville said nothing specific about how he intended to stop speculative pressure on the franc. Some financial experts said they were not convinced by his confidence in the absence of concrete measures.

ures to maintain monetary stability.

There was still complete secrecy over decisions which may have been taken at the weekend meeting in Basel, Switzerland, of the governors of the leading central banks.

Continuing uncertainty over the central banks' counterattack may have done more to dampen last week's speculative fever.

On French money markets, the franc was again quoted at its official floor level of 4.9740 to the dollar this morning, while the German mark remained slightly above the official ceiling of 12.5290. The pound dropped one point overnight to 11.8460, the lowest level for six months.

Swiss money markets opened quieter and the French franc even showed a fractional improvement by noon. However, Swiss banks were still limiting purchases of French currency bills.

Medal Of Honor To Mich. Soldier

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Michigan soldier and four other Army men were to receive Medals of Honor from President Johnson today for unsurpassed gallantry and heroism in Vietnam.

Spec. 5 Dwight H. Johnson, 21, of Detroit, the only Negro among the five to be given the Medal of Honor was driving a tank near Dak To last Jan. 15 when he went to the aid of a platoon engaged in heavy contact with an enemy force of battalion size.

When his tank became disabled, Johnson climbed out, killed several enemy soldiers with his pistol, then went back into his tank for a machine gun and eliminated an enemy ambush site.

When he ran out of ammunition, he killed an enemy soldier with the stock of his gun.

Then, according to the citation, Johnson took a wounded crew member from another tank, then ran from tank to tank under devastating fire, firing guns until they jammed.

The situation finally was brought under control.

A total of 61 of the Medals of Honor have been awarded in the Vietnam War, 33 of them presented personally by President Johnson.

Cold And Snow Put Skids Under U. P.

More snow, continued northerly winds and temperatures in the 20's puts the skids under wheel traffic in Northern Michigan today and made deer hunters think about getting out of backwoods camps before they were snowed in.

The Weather Bureau said the high today will be about 32 with a low of 16 and snow flurries tonight.

Wednesday's high will be about 30 degrees and the outlook for Thursday is for partly cloudy and not quite so cold.

Winds that have been up to 25 miles an hour, causing con-

North Central Airlines continued service at Escanaba without interruption, but the flight into Marquette last night was called off and today's morning flight to and from Marquette was also canceled.

At Marquette the snow had accumulated to about six inches on the ground and a blizzard was underway shortly before noon.

Schools were closed at Gwinn, at the K. I. Sawyer Air Force base and off-base, and at Brampton because of the hazardous road conditions.

State Police said side roads are snow covered and extremely slippery, and some back roads are little more than two tracks through the snow and are almost impassable. Hunters are pulling out of isolated camps in some areas because of the threat of bad roads and more snow.

Both the U. P. and northern downstate received a heavy snowfall—but it was reported as a welcome sight to ski resort owners who are hoping for a winter of deep snow cover.

In Escanaba and presumably in other communities the first complaints of free-wheeling snowmobile traffic were received by police.

Complaints ranged from residents who were unable to sleep because of the snowmobile clattering around to late hours at night, and because of trespass of the machines on lawns and private property.

Kenneth Touthack, Escanaba superintendent of public works, noted that the plowing of sidewalks will not be started because of the damage that would be done to lawns before the ground freezes.

The heavy snow warnings were continued for the U. P. and northern Lower Michigan with an additional two to four inches forecast. The heaviest snowfall is expected to occur along Lake Michigan downstate and along Lake Superior in the U. P.

Temperature readings down to 15 and 20 degrees were the outlook in some inland areas of the U. P. tonight.

Heavy snows, ranging up to 18 inches in depth, blanketed the Grayling area today, forcing schools to close and creating dangerous drifts across highways.

Schools also were shut down in the Frederick area after more than eight inches of snow accumulated in less than 12 hours, the Weather Bureau said.

In the northern part of the Lower Peninsula, snow depths were increasing rapidly today, the bureau added.

Remove Cars!

All night parking on Escanaba streets is banned in the emergency and motorists are not to park on the street tonight from 2 a. m. to 7 a. m., Police Chief Richard Frederick announced.

The wintertime parking ordinance does not go into effect until Dec. 1, but because of the need to plow streets tonight, the cooperation of all motorists is requested.

considerable drifting, will diminish slowly tonight and will swing to the northwest. Snow flurries will continue at least through Wednesday.

Highways were slippery in spots throughout the northern part of the state and State Police and traffic officers called upon motorists to use caution. There have been many traffic mishaps and in one fatal accident slippery highway conditions were a contributing factor.

Search Underway For Hunter Lost Near Houghton

A search was underway in Houghton County this morning for a 36-year-old Illinois deer hunter who has been lost in the Kenton area since Monday afternoon.

Authorities identified the man as Peter Locke of DeKalb.

Another hunter who was reported lost Monday walked out of the woods about 9:30 a.m. today.

Snow Hampers Hunt

Gordon Cummings, 50, of Rochester, told officers he heard State Police sirens last night, but decided to remain in the woods overnight rather than attempt to walk out in darkness. He was in good condition.

Near blizzard conditions in some parts of the Upper Peninsula hampered hunting today. New snowfall was general throughout the Upper Peninsula and Dept. of Natural Resources officers reported many Lower Michigan hunters leaving the woods because of the snow.

Three to six inches of new snow was reported in the Escanaba District Monday with drifting making driving conditions poor on most side roads.

Hunting conditions were regarded as poor, but officers said improvement is expected when the snow subsides with best chance of success likely in drives through swamps.

No gunfire fatalities have been reported in the Upper Peninsula since the season opened last Friday. Three men have died of heart attacks.

Bridge Count Down

Hunter concentrations in the Escanaba district were reported in the Black Creek, Whitefish River and Rock River areas, but the deer kill was regarded as light.

At the Mackinac Bridge, a total of 7,667 hunter vehicles have returned to Lower Michigan carrying a total of 1,715 deer and 24 bear. Last year, 1,818 deer and 27 bear had been transported across the bridge during the same period.

Violations are normal, officers said, with 10 arrests Monday bringing the season total of 71 in the Escanaba district. The majority of arrests have been made for carrying loaded or uncased guns in motor vehicles and also for headlighting deer.

Locate Gasoline Expansion Is Predicted Sold As Fuel Oil For Iron Mountain Plant

PONTIAC (AP)— Authorities report they have located all but seven of 80 gallons of gasoline mistakenly sold as fuel oil Monday in suburban Avon Township.

Capt. Leo Hazen of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, said a search was continuing for the remainder.

Hazen also said earlier reports of 415 gallons being mistakenly sold were erroneous.

Sheriff's deputies expressed fear the gasoline would explode if mistakenly placed in an oil-burning furnace or living room heater.

IRON MOUNTAIN — At a meeting with employees of Khoury Brothers, Inc., of Iron Mountain this morning, Norman Price, group vice president of Rusco Industries, Inc., explained his firm's planned pooling of interests with the Khoury company.

Rusco Industries is a Los Angeles based manufacturer of building material products. The company has 4,000 stockholders and is listed on the American Stock Exchange.

The agreement is still subject to approval of the California Commissioner of Corporations and completion of the transaction is expected Nov. 26.

Khoury, with sales in excess of $2 million, is engaged in manufacture of hardwood furniture. The firm operates plants in Iron Mountain, Henderson, Ky., and Hayward, Wis. All three plants will be included in the transaction.

Rusco is split into eight divisions. Price is the general manager of the Harvard Manufacturing Co., producers of nationally famous bed frames.

Plan Expansion

"While Harvard is in the metal furniture business, Khoury Brothers is engaged in wood furniture business," Price noted. "In this pooling of interests, it is our aim to join a companion company with related products."

"This will make for a bigger, better and more profitable operation in one or two years from now. We have definite plans for expansion and growth."

Earlier this month, the City of Iron Mountain announced it was seeking the approval of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission for issuance of $975,000 in industrial revenue bonds for construction of a woodworking plant in Iron Mountain for Khoury Brothers, Inc.

Bonding Goes Ahead

"We definitely want to go ahead with the bonding," Price said. He was scheduled to meet with city officials later today.

Price told employees that new products are expected to be introduced at the Khoury plant as soon as expansion and growth increase the capacity to produce these items.

"Khoury will not lose its identity," he said, "but now our salesmen will have two products to sell instead of one. With this pooling of interests the market for Khoury products will be increased because of our contracts in the business."

Rusco is a diversified industry engaged in the manufacture of doors, windows and sliding doors with both steel and aluminum. The firm is becoming involved in production of windows and doors for the mobile home industry. This will link them with Khoury Brothers, which manufactures bedroom furniture for mobile homes.

that Khoury produces bunk beds and Harvard makes springs for these beds. Khoury also is engaged in the manufacture of bedroom sets and Harvard produces the Hollywood frame which is attached to Khoury headboards.

Price told employees that details are being worked out for an improved incentive program and expanded plant facilities.

James Khoury is president and treasurer of Khoury Brothers, Inc. Jack Khoury is vice president and secretary and Edward Khoury is a vice president of the firm.

Governors Urged To Get Big Game On TV

PONTIAC (AP)— State Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, urged the governors of Big Ten states today to intervene and bring about telecasting of the Michigan-Ohio State football game Saturday at Columbus, Ohio.

The Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl invitation depend upon the outcome of the encounter, which long ago was sold out.

Kuhn sent telegrams to Gov. George Romney and the governors of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa, saying he had been advised that Big Ten athletic directors had turned down a telecast by a 6-4 vote.

Kuhn said he was advised a 7-3 vote would be necessary.

"The decision not to telecast," Kuhn said in his telegram, "is without doubt the biggest mistake ever made by Big Ten athletic directors. . . . In view of the great public interest and the millions of football fans nationally, I urge you and fellow governors to urge athletic directors to reconsider."

The Path To Chaos

There can be no doubting the sincerity and intensity of belief of the self-styled "Catonsville Nine." These are the nine Catholic men and women, including two priest-brothers, who stormed a draft board office in Catonsville, Md., last May, seized records and burned them with homemade napalm.

For this act, they have been convicted in U. S. District Court in Baltimore and sentenced to prison terms of from 2 to 3½ years each. One of the priests was already serving time for pouring blood over the files of another draft board.

Some groups and individuals around the country are now attempting to elevate the "Catonsville Nine" into a cause celebre on the order of the Sacco-Vanzetti case of the 1920s or the Scottsboro Boys of the '30s.

Let it be repeated that these can be no doubting the sincerity of these nine men and women, nor their personal courage. Rather than considering themselves lawbreakers, they look on themselves as martyrs to a higher law than any written by men. They are convinced that they are right and that their cause is just and damn the torpedoes of fascistic reprisal.

Precisely therein lies the grave danger their attitude and their behavior poses to society — not merely an orderly society but the humane society they so vehemently espouse.

For it is permissible for these people, sincerely believing the Vietnam war or war in general to be evil, to commit an illegal act in opposition to it, it would be just as permissible for someone else, sincerely believing in the misguidedness of those who oppose America's involvement in Southeast Asia, to raid the headquarters of a peace group and destroy its records.

If depth of belief and self-righteous conviction are the only standards of judgment, then the police in Detroit had no business the other day arresting 11 young men and women and charging them with carrying out eight separate bombings in an alleged "antiestablishment, anti-government plot."

Nor can anyone complain about the failure of authorities to arrest the men who bombed a Negro church and killed four children in Mississippi in 1963 — assuming that they sincerely believed that what they did was in the ultimate service of mankind.

The act of conscience by the "Catonsville Nine," of course, harmed no one and is as far removed from the latter atrocity as it is from the stupid demonstration some University of Cincinnati students planned, or pretended to plan — to burn a dog with napalm.

Yet the premise behind all these acts is identical: The end justifies the means.

That way lies chaos. Just as one atrocity never justifies another, neither does one illegal act excuse another — not, at least, so long as there remain channels and means of legitimate protest and redress in America.

Most opponents of the war have attempted to use these legitimate means to make themselves heard. They have failed to win over the mass of Americans. History will decide whether that is America's tragedy or the protesters'.

One thing is certain, however. The more they resort to acts of outright rebellion, the more the protesters damage, if not damn, their causes, whatever they may be.

EARLY CHRISTMAS

We would like to know the purpose of putting up Christmas displays and decorations before the Thanksgiving holidays.

We understand the necessity of shopping and mailing early because of our boys in Vietnam, etc., however, stringing up lighted Christmas garlands across the streets of Escanaba and various other decorations two weeks before Thanksgiving is going too far.

We feel this is a detriment to the true spirit of Christmas, leaving us with nothing but a spirit of commercialism. We need not begin celebrating and advertising so far in advance that when Christmas finally arrives the spirit is gone!

Let you think we are alone in our opinion let us assure you that we have spoken to many regarding this issue and we have found the same reaction.

APPRECIATION

The League of Women Voters of Escanaba would like to thank Donald Guindon, Bruno Nardi, Alfred Groos, and the election workers of Escanaba Precinct 2 and of Wells Township.

League members were a part of the team of ABC election news reporters the evening of Nov. 5. Precinct workers gave us the presidential vote totals from the machines and from the absentee ballots, and permitted the use of a telephone, so that we could telephone the results from these precincts directly to ABC news in New York City.

Pardon Hearing After 30 Years

LANSING (AP) — The State Parole Board plans a public hearing Friday in Lansing on an application for pardon submitted by Robert Burns of Mount Clemens, sentenced in 1935 to 3½ years on a charge of breaking and entering. Burns served three years and was paroled in 1938. The board said its investigation shows Burns "has not only lived a crime-free life for the past 30 years, but has been a contributing and productive member of the community during that time."

Kidney Transplant

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Randy Colbert, 19, Grand Rapids, was reported in fair condition Monday following a kidney transplant at the University of Michigan Hospital. More than $30,000 in public contributions was raised for the youth's surgery after his kidney ailment was disclosed. The transplanted kidney was taken from a cadaver.

A PRANK AND SOME YOUNGSTER

drove it off and left it, having served its usefulness.

Finally the police had been notified to assist in locating a youngster's properly registered and stolen bike. After three weeks the search has proven fruitless.

Tonight I had a second shock when I learned that the other youngster's bike had been stolen.

Now it begins to add up. First, it was siphoning gas from my car. Then, two bike losses within a month.

It is shocking and disgusting. We say we can't blame the youngsters and I believe we are right—they are sick.

Moscow To Hinder Middle East Peace

By LEON DENNEN
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA) — It will be a grave error for the United States and NATO to take lightly President Tito's warning that "the danger of war is very near" in the Middle East.

While the peace negotiations in the United Nations proceed at snail's pace, war fever rises steadily in the Arab countries and Israel.

The Yugoslav leader, hardly an alarmist, is one statesman who understands President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and is aware of the long-range plans of his Russian patrons.

Because of Tito's long friendship with Nasser, Yugoslavia broke diplomatic relations with Israel after the June, 1967, war. However, relations between the two leaders of the so-called unaligned nations reached freezing point when Nasser, who is now surrounded by some 5,000 Soviet military advisers, technicians and secret agents, approved Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Tito realized belatedly that Moscow was using the UAR as a base for aggression in the Mediterranean. That directly threatens Yugoslavia's security.

As the Yugoslavs see it, the Stalinist hardliners who now chart the course of Russian foreign policy are no longer interested in peace in an area where they can exploit friction to their imperialist advantage.

They are not yet ready to sanction the resumption of any full-scale hostilities between the Arabs and Israel. But Moscow is employing every diplomatic trick to hinder a peace settlement in the hope that continuing unrest in the Middle East will strengthen the pro-Russian elements in the Arab countries.

To bolster Russian influence in the region, the Kremlin recently dispatched Nuridin Mukhtidinov as ambassador to Syria.

Ostensibly a Moslem, Mukhtidinov is a top Soviet official who is an old hand at fomenting "wars of national liberation." He will operate jointly with Khalid Bagdash, Russia's veteran agent in the Middle East, who is believed to be the real political boss of Syria.

According to East European diplomats, Bagdash is the man who arms, trains and controls

But just a reminder to the parents — "It is 10 p. m.—do you know where your children are?" Surely a concerned parent must notice property of this size in their children's possession and become inquisitive.

This is all I ask. "Each parent take time out to take inventory as it concerns their youngsters." Maybe we could stop a sick menace to our community. First it was siphoning gas—then it was stealing bicycles—tomorrow?

As concerned parents, let's take inventory so we can be sure of tomorrow.

the Arab terrorist bands that harass Israel from bases in Jordan.

Moscow is thus in a position to escalate or curb terrorist acts not only against Israel but also against Jordan's pro-American King Hussein.

Jordan wants peace with Israel. From Israel's point of view, a stable Jordan under Hussein would be a safer neighbor than a Jordan under Communists.

But the Russians warned Hussein that they will unleash their terrorists against him should he agree to a compromise with Israel.

Moscow's newspaper Izvestia made this clear in a long editorial which said: "Attention should be drawn to the great progressive upheavals in Jordanian society which, in our opinion, are one of the main reasons for the successful struggle to eliminate the results of Israel's aggression."

The "great progressive upheavals" are, of course, the revolutionary activists of Bagdash's terrorists.

Soviet leaders apparently are convinced Egypt, Syria and Jordan are ripe for take-over. It is increasingly clear that they are interested in a final settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict only if it brings about in their client-states Communist regimes similar to the Soviet pattern.

Today's hand appears in George Coffin's ABC of card playing technique under "F for Finesse."

South's 22 high card point game contract is not a good one. He might well have dropped the bidding at two diamonds and North really should have bid three diamonds instead of three no-trump but South finds himself at three no-trump and it is up to him to try to make it.

He starts by playing dummy's jack of hearts at trick one. This does no good since East produces the queen. He lets the queen hold. Sometimes an opponent is nice enough to try a second suit. As a matter of fact, East does lead his king of spades but this doesn't help South one bit because East's next play is a heart.

South is in with the ace of hearts and if he goes after the diamonds right away, South will wind up with only eight tricks since the best he can do will be to make six diamonds and two aces.

South must take the club finesse before attacking diamonds. He leads the queen of clubs. If West covers, South comes back to his hand with the jack; if West ducks, South is still in his hand. Now he can try the diamond finesse and, since that works also, he will have his nine tricks.

South's play was a desperate one. He needed two successful finesses and if either went wrong he would be down several tricks at three no-trump but it is mighty good policy to take almost any risk at all in order to make an undoubted contract. Certainly a one-in-four chance is worth taking, and the chance that two finesses will work is one in four.

Plane Crashes At Detroit Airport

DETROIT (AP) — Four persons were injured, three critically, when a twin-engine light airplane crashed while attempting to take off from Detroit's Metropolitan Airport Monday night.

Stephen Martin, 21, of Scottsbluff, Neb., the pilot, said the plane lost power in both engines when it was about 50 feet in the air and nosedived into the runway. He was listed in satisfactory condition.

In critical condition were Bryce Kater, 27, of Galion, Ohio; Robert Stipe, 19, of Lorain, Ohio; and Maureen Talcott, 20, of Sheffield Lake, Ohio.

Tell-Tale Symptoms Of Different Drugs

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I suspect that our 19-year-old college sophomore daughter is taking drugs. We are reluctant to speak to her about it for fear we might be wrong. She would then become even more hostile and unreachable.

Will you please describe the symptoms that accompany the use of drugs. We are totally ignorant on the subject and are afraid to ask anyone for fear they might guess why we are interested. I'm sure thousands of parents around the country would appreciate the information. Thank you in advance, Ann. — NO NAME, NO CITY

Dear No Name: Here is a condensed version of the material I have gathered from my medical and psychiatric consultants. Note, please, that symptoms vary according to the individual's degree of tolerance and the quantity of narcotics used.

Barbiturates (pills to calm nerves and relieve anxiety): Thick speech (as if intoxicated), lack of coordination, detachment, no interest in surrounding activity.

Marijuana: Strong, sweet odor (similar to burning leaves) permeates the clothing and lingers in the room where the smoking took place. Dilation of the pupils, red eyes, often hidden under sunglasses when there is no sun. Decreased appetite, unusual sleeping habits (up for 24 hours, asleep for 16 hours).

LSD: Incoherent speech, wide personality swings (high one minute, low the next), loss of motivation, vomiting. The LSD user looks as if he is suffering from a severe hangover.

Pep Pills: Rapid speech, giggling, loud laughter, extreme fatigue, trembling hands, loss of appetite.

Glue Sniffing: Slurred speech as if drunk, sense dulled, doesn't seem to see well or hear well. Passing out is not uncommon.

Heroin: Watery eyes, blank look on face, unresponsive, shakiness and inability to concentrate. Needle marks on arms which are often covered by long sleeves even in hot weather.

Dear Ann: You helped solve a problem without knowing it. Here's how: Yesterday I reached the end of my rope. I decided to write to you although I used to look down my nose at people who did.

I stared at the paper for 20 minutes — not knowing where to start. Finally I sorted out all my hates and mental stumbling blocks in an effort to find a beginning for my letter. Strangely enough, I began to view my problem in an orderly, rational manner. For the very first time I recognized the part I played in creating the problem. When I was finally able to accept my share of the responsibility I knew what the solution had to be.

So bless you, Ann Landers. This letter isn't worth sending perhaps, but the envelope is addressed and stamped, so I'm going to toss it in the mailbox. — ANN FAN FOREVER

Dear Forever: Your "problem" was the easiest one of the day. Thanks for mailing it.

Ann Landers' new book "Truth Is Stranger," is available at your bookstore price — $4.95.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Copyright 1968, Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Obernkirchen Choir Charms Local Audience

By JANET MARTIN
The William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium was the scene last evening for an outstanding musical performance presented by the Obernkirchen Children's Choir of Germany.

Choir director is Edith Moeller, who founded the internationally-acclaimed choir in 1949. Accompanist is James Benner.

The concert last evening was the first in a series of performances to be presented during the 1968-69 season, sponsored by the Delta County Community Concert Association.

A capacity crowd was present to welcome the charming young singers who are now on their 10th tour of America.

Enjoy Spirituals
The entire program was outstanding and well received but the audience especially enjoyed the "Ave Maria," "Echoliad," (Echo Song), "Where the Bee Sucks," and the Negro spirituals featured during the second part of the program, "Mary Had a Baby," and "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

Folk Songs
During the first part of the program, the Children's Choir presented many classical selections while the second half, following intermission, included favorite folk songs from around the world.

The choir remained on the stage for several encores, climaxing the evening with the marching song which has become their trademark, "The Happy Wanderer."

This is an original composition written for the Children's Choir by Edith Moeller's brother, Frederick Wilhelm Moeller.

Radiant Performance
"The Angels in Pigtails," a title earned from the late Welsh poet, Dylan Thomas, John Quigley and Mrs. Robert were radiant in their performance last evening, and such come.

radiance one does not easily forget.

It was a joy in itself to hear the young, refreshing voices, blending in perfect union, throughout the many and varied selections.

American Motors Report Earnings Of $11.8 Million

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. took a giant step on the comeback trail Monday as it reported net earnings of nearly $11.8 million dollars for fiscal 1968, its first year in the black since 1965.

The fourth largest of the U.S. auto firms issued a cheerful annual financial report, but, for the 13th quarter in a row, omitted payment of dividends.

AMC board chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr. said the firm's net earnings from actual operations were $3.3 million, but non-recurring items boosted this to the $11.8 million figure, or 61 cents a share.

The company said its automotive division accounted for a profit of $4.79 million in the 1968 fiscal year, compared with the $66.7 million loss the division showed in the previous fiscal year.

Lost $75.8 Million

The sizeable profit contrasted with the $75.8 million which AMC lost a year earlier in fiscal 1967. Chapin, who took over as board chairman on Jan. 9, 1967, predicted in an interview several months ago that AMC's financial future looked brighter and the new figures appeared to back up his optimism.

Domestic auto sales moved up to 268,428 units in fiscal '68, a 13 per cent hike over the 237,799 posted a year earlier. Chapin and AMC president William V. Luneburg predicted they would top the 300,000 mark next time around.

They said the turnaround in the firm's financial fortunes in fiscal '68 came about because of "an encouraging increase in the sale of 1968 model cars, accompanied by improving operating efficiencies and cost controls that enabled the company to lower its break even point."

The non-recurring items for the year just ended included a special tax credit that enabled the company to recover $19.2 million of previously paid federal income taxes and a net paper loss of $10,750,000 on the sale of the Kelvinator Appliance Division to White Industries.

The appliance division also showed a loss of approximately $1.5 million for that portion of the year that it was owned by AMC prior to its sale to White Consolidated Industries, Inc.

First Since 1965

It marked the first time AMC had been in the black since it reported a profit of $5.2 million in fiscal 1965.

AMC's last dividend was a 12 1/2 cent payment on Aug. 2, 1965.

Ford, Chrysler and General Motors all had reported a few weeks earlier that they made considerable profits in the first nine months of 1968. These firms operate on a calendar year basis, while AMC is on a fiscal year ending Sept. 30.

AMC's financial statements showed a fourth quarter loss of $6 million, or 32 cents a share, including a $3.5 million loss for non-recurring items. For the fourth quarter a year ago, AMC was in the red $27.8 million, or $1.46 a share.

Parked Car In Police Ambush

LUTON, England (AP) — Paul Sibley, 18, parked his car in a deserted spot Saturday night and turned toward Janice Eaves, his girl friend. Suddenly a flare lit the sky and two men began smashing the car windows with pickaxe handles.

Sibley tried to drive away but was stopped by a police roadblock. He had parked in the middle of a police ambush set for a gang's getaway car.

The police said they would pay for the repairs to Sibley's car. They said the detectives had attacked without warning in the belief that the car contained armed criminals.

"I am sure I will always be nervous going out in a car in the dark," said 18-year-old Janice, who was cut by the broken window glass.

VAUGHN HOFFMAN of Lee Township in Calhoun County points out the geyser of water coming from what once was this water well. The column shoots 60 feet high, has been going steadily since Wednesday morning, Nov. 13, driven from below by natural gas escaping from an oil well drilling one-half mile north on the E. E. Midlam farm. (AP Wirephoto)

Escaping Gas Danger To Homes Near Albion

ALBION (AP) — A newly drilled oil well, its gases escaping into underground water strata, is endangering homes and businesses within a three-mile radius some eight miles northwest of Albion.

Some families have moved from the area into homes with relatives or into an Albion motel, fearing fire.

A fire developed Sunday in one plot of muckland a mile away. Sheriff's officers said a deer hunter apparently had dropped a lighted match or cigarette, setting what looked like "pilot lights" over an area 60 by 25 feet. These blazes were doused with fog by the Marengo Township Fire Department.

Rice Creek Community Church, three miles away, had to cancel services Sunday because gas was seeping from its well into the church.

Oil well experts are attempting to case the well and thus shut off the pressure of gas into adjoining earth, but they estimate this will take another 36 to 48 hours.

The water strata in the area range from a depth of 25 feet to 175 feet.

Water and clay being pumped into the well have reduced the pressure from 1,400 pounds per square inch 10 days ago to 400 pounds, but experts say there still is a danger of fire at the geysers and at surface leaks elsewhere.

The gas was hit at 4,455 feet on the farm of Earl E. Midlam. The well was drilled by Perry Funk of Albion.

One section of Twenty-Four Mile Road was closed off for fear it would collapse from gas pressure underneath, and the little cross-roads community of Baklund Corners was evacuated.

Gun Fire Disrupts Electric Service

JACKSON (AP) — Consumers Power Co. said 3,300 of its Michigan customers lost service temporarily Saturday and Sunday when guns were fired at 12 electric line insulators.

The more serious case took place ten miles south of Tawas City Monday, when service was lost in the communities of Sherman, Tawas and Alabaster. The company said six insulators on four poles were destroyed by gunshot.

The other interruption happened at Fenton, near Flint, where six insulators on two poles were damaged. The company has a standing $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of the persons who destroyed the equipment.

Fraud Charged To Faith Healer

DETROIT (AP) — A self-styled faith healer from the Philippines was arraigned Monday on a charge of defrauding 111 Detroit-area people of $72,000 and taking the money from Detroit to Canada.

The faith healer, Antonio (Dr. Tony) Agapao, performed "surgery" on the sick people who chartered an airliner to fly to the Philippines with so-called "magical incisions" which he said healed instantly, and with "magnetic surgery" in which he waved his hands over the patient while invoking the aid of the Holy Spirit.

Agapao was arrested earlier this month in San Francisco after arriving from the Philippines "to renew his membership as an Independent Spirit-healer."

Agapao's attorney said the faith healer was released on $25,000 bond Monday that his client did not take the money.

Attorney Richard Eubank said the money was used by the 111 people for the round trip from the Detroit area to the Philippines. Agapao does not get paid for his services as a faith healer, Eubank added.

Some of the sufferers who returned from the trip in October, 1967, claimed to have benefited from Dr. Tony's treatment, but many later said they had become convinced he was a charlatan.

Agapao says he's puzzled over the fraud charge.

"I'm not a medical doctor, I'm a reverend," he said when he was arrested in San Francisco. "I go into a trance. When I'm in a trance I heal people."

No charges have been brought against Joseph Ruffner of the Detroit suburb of Wyandotte, who organized the trip to the Philippines.

Miss Detroit Auto

DETROIT (AP) — Five finalists have been named for the 1968 Miss Detroit Auto Show competition from among 168 entries.

A winner will be selected Thursday.

Finalists include Linda Polle, 18, and Theresa Bajos, 18, both of Detroit; Iona Woodson, 21, and Linda East, 22, both of Warren, and Sue Raeder, 19, of Lincoln Park.

State Police said Corbiel's jeep which was northbound on County Rd. 426 collided about three miles north of Watson with a pickup truck driven by Paul Snowaert, 33, of Rte. 1, Gladstone.

Officers said Snowaert apparently lost control of his truck on slippery pavement and the vehicle hit the left front of Corbiel's jeep. The jeep ran off the road and rolled over, throwing Corbiel out and pinning him underneath, officers said.

Investigation of the accident is continuing.

Two of the three persons injured in the second accident remained in St. Francis Hospital today.

State Police said Shelby Jean LaBombard, 22, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, had stopped her car on County Rd. 416 about one mile south of County Rd. 426 in Cornell Township when her headlights went out. Troopers said she flagged down Robert Kearns, 32, of Norway for assistance and he was in front of the car working on the headlights when the car was struck from behind by a car driven by Eugene Plouff, 59, of Rte. 1, Gladstone.

Kearns was injured when the impact pushed the LaBombard vehicle into him. He was reported in good condition this morning at the hospital.

Christine LaBombard, 20, of Rte. 1, Gladstone, a passenger in the LaBombard car, also was hospitalized. She also was reported in good condition. Plouff suffered minor injuries, officers said.

Shelby LaBombard received a summons for no operator's license.

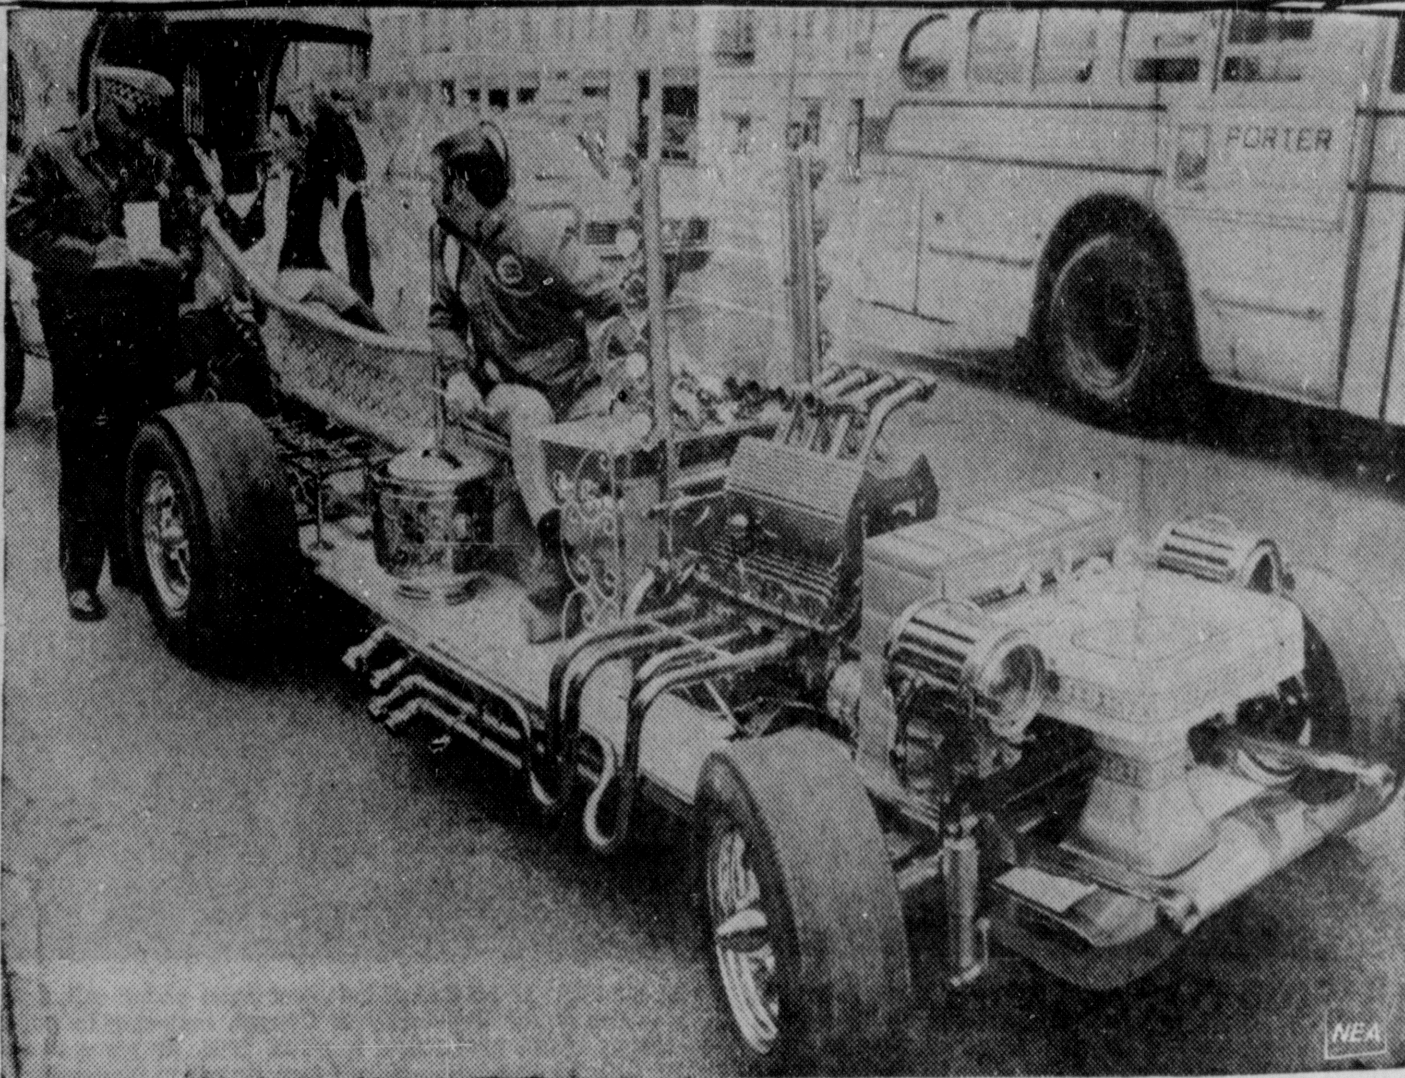

Chimp's Liver Fails To Save Girl

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Doctors say an emergency operation to save the life of a desperately ill 3-year-old girl by having her share the liver of a chimpanzee has failed. The child died Monday night in the Henrietta Eggleston Hospital for Children at Emory University.

Her name was withheld at the request of her parents.

The child was stricken with hepatitis, a viral liver disease. Last Thursday, doctors connected her circulatory system to that of a chimpanzee in a five-hour operation, so that the chimp's liver could function for the girl while her own fought the disease.

Although temporary improvement was achieved by the operation, "it is reported with sadness that the primary objective — of restoring this apparently hopelessly ill child to health — was not," one doctor said.

"BATHROOM ON WHEELS" must be guilty of some violation for it seems as though Chicago patrolman Lee Sawyer is writing out a ticket despite protestations of Dianne Hughes and Mario Cicone. Bathroom fixtures including a bathtub seat, wash basin front and dressing table dashboard make up this custom car, which will be shown during the International Championship Rod and Custom Car Show in Chicago.

Leg Bones Found In Porcupines

ONTONAGON (AP)—Authorities sought today to unravel the mystery surrounding the finding of leg bones and matching boots Sunday by a hunter in the wilderness of Porcupine Mountains State Park of the Upper Peninsula.

The hunter to make the discovery was James Tolinson of Westland.

Sheriff Donald R. Powelson, deputies, State Police and Conservation Department agents joined in a search Monday of the immediate area and came up with a boot which matched that found by the hunter which contained a leg bone. Other pieces of bone also were found.

The bones have been dispatched to the State Crime Laboratory at Lansing in the hopes that sex, age, height, weight and other details may be provided.

The find was made near Buckshot Cabin, just off Lake Superior.

Speculation centered on the possibility that the bones may be those of Michael J. Larson, 20, of Madison, Wis., who disappeared last April 22.

Larson's abandoned car was found on a side road in the Porcupine Mountains shortly after he was reported missing. The car keys were still in the ignition, but the Wisconsin license plate was missing.

Sheriff Powelson last week asked hunters in the Porcupine Mountains area to be on the lookout for clothing or other items which could help solve the disappearance of Larson. Officers conducted a search in the vicinity of the car last spring without turning up any clues.

Implant Artificial Knee Ligaments

EAST LANSING (AP) — People with problem knees — football players included — may get a boost from research on artificial ligaments being conducted at Michigan State University.

Veterinary surgeons are trying to implant synthetic ligaments in the knees of injured dogs.

If they're successful, the ultimate beneficiaries may be humans.

Those working on the project are Dr. Wade O. Brinker, professor of veterinary surgery and medicine, and two members of the department of metallurgy, mechanics and materials science, Dr. Robert W. Little and Roger C. Haut.

Little and Haut are trying to develop the synthetic ligament designed to replace a ruptured knee ligament. Brinker hopes soon to implant the device in a dog and observe how well it works.

If the plans are implemented, surgeons would drill small holes diagonally through the bottom of the thigh bone and the top of the shinbone — at the point where the damaged ligament connects the two bones.

They thread the synthetic ligament through both bones and anchor it to each bone with a cone-shaped wedge.

That's one problem, little says. If not anchored properly, the ligament can cause demineralization of the bone, loosen the ligament and create too much "play" in the knee.

"We don't want a synthetic ligament that allows any more or less flexibility than a natural one," Little says. "It is important to watch as closely as possible the stress and strain characteristics of a natural ligament."

The researchers say the portion of the ligament extending between the bones is to be coated with a silicone rubber so the material will not trigger a rejection reaction within the knee.

They say it will be more than five months before they can judge if their work is successful.

Third-Graders Correct Errors

SEATTLE (AP) — Six third-graders at Madrona Elementary School were credited today with saving a textbook publisher from reprinting a math book containing the right problems, but some wrong answers.

The pupils—Curt Smith, David Bierman, Alison Bland, Charles Klyn, Brett Bodemer and Jacqueline Boyle—were working as a group with a new math enrichment text, the teacher, Mrs. Carol Gromko, explained.

"They would try these problems over and over until they were sure the workbook was wrong," she said. Then some letters were sent to the publisher.

"Your students are entirely correct," the publisher replied, saying the letters came before orders to reprint the text went out and the errors were corrected.

Patrolman Urges Respect For Law

A talk and film encouraging respect for the law was presented to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday by Officer Gary LaPlant of the Escanaba Police Department.

The presentation was in conjunction with the Escanaba Optimist Club, of which LaPlant is a member, and the film was furnished through the cooperation of the Green Bay and DePere, Wis., Optimist Club.

Weber Honored For Work In Soil Conservation

Allen C. Weber, work unit conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Stephenson, was honored at an awards ceremony in Iron Mountain recently. He was presented with an outstanding performance award for his work last year by Delbert G. Meister, area conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Marquette.

In making the presentation at an SCS staff conference, Meister said the award recognizes Weber's outstanding contributions to the Soil Conservation Program in Menominee Soil Conservation District.

During fiscal year 1968 Weber and his staff worked with 83 landowners in developing conservation plans for their property. In addition they assisted over 550 landowners install and maintain conservation practices such as strip cropping, grassed waterways and ponds.

These practices control soil erosion, increase land values, make land more productive, they help keep streams clear, and contribute to rural beautification.

Weber taught vocational agriculture in Minnesota for ten years before joining SCS in 1944. He was first located at Traverse City and later in 1944 moved to Stephenson and has been located there since that time.

Weber and his wife, Mary Ellen, live in Stephenson and have five children. Robert edits the Michigan State University publication "Format" and lives in Lansing. Tom is completing his studies leading to a PhD in Microbiology at the University of Wisconsin. Daughters Betty and Patricia are married and live in Milwaukee and the youngest daughter, Cathi, is a junior in Stephenson High School.

Respect for the law is declining in the United States, LaPlant said. Major crimes have increased over 21 per cent already in the first six months of 1968.

LaPlant described law as a set of rules drawn by elected representatives designed for building a better United States.

In the past, crime touched chiefly the low income group, and never received the publicity it has today, LaPlant said. Now it has moved through the middle income group, into the high income bracket.

"It is so bad in our nation's capitol," LaPlant said, "that a ranking U. S. official must provide transportation for a secretary, if she should have to work past the regular closing hours."

Agents of the law, such as police officers, also must have respect for the people. The claim of police brutality in the recent Democratic convention in Chicago was blown up, he explained, but there was poor judgement used by some of the officers, too.

The most important place to instill respect for the law is in the home, LaPlant explained. The film, "Every Hour, Every Day", narrated by Danny Thomas, showed law enforcement officers in various phases of their duties, protecting the citizenry throughout day and night.

In Escanaba, LaPlant said, city officials have cooperated to equip the department with the finest equipment available. Within the 22 persons who make up the department, there are specific traffic officers, skin divers, qualified breathalyzer men, and a full time detective. The force has four cars and latest weaponry, including riot control equipment.

In LaPlant's opinion, the department is the finest in the entire Upper Peninsula. In another part of the program, Ellen Foster played a violin arrangement entitled "Variations of a Theme" by Puccini. She was accompanied on the piano by her Kiwanian Father, Jack Foster.

Michigan Senator LANSING (AP) — Alvin J. DeGrow — Michigan's newest state senator—is to be sworn into office Wednesday at the State Capitol.

DeGrow, R-Pigeon, won his post Nov. 5 in a special election to fill the seat of Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair. Beadle, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, resigned two years before his term expired.

Startish are harmless as far as people are concerned.

JOHN C. PORTER, 21, was sworn into the U. S. Navy via a long distance phone call in Denver. Capt. R. A. Porter, commanding officer of the Defense Logistics Service Center in Battle Creek, administered the oath to his son in the phone call. The rare method of joining the service is condoned only in special cases. Porter and his wife are shown at the right as he makes the ceremonial phone call. John is a senior at the University of Denver, majoring in political science. After graduating in June, 1969, he plans to enroll in Officers Candidate School and report to Newport, R. I., for training. (AP Wirephoto)

Changing Church Discussion Topic

The Marquette Diocesan Parish Renewal Team will meet with the Students at Bay de Noc Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Student Center.

The team is headed by Rev. James Donnelly, formerly superintendent of Holy Name High School, with Sister Rosamond, Franciscan Sister of Christian Charity, and Kenneth Bray of Catholic Social Services of Escanaba.

Sister Rosamond joined the staff of the Marygrove Center for Christian Renewal, Garden, this year. As assistant to Rev. Donnelly, director of the Center, in his work of coordinating diocesan-wide programs for parish renewal, she is engaged in preparing source materials for these programs.

Former Dean of Holy Family College, Sister Rosamond has her doctor's degree from the Catholic University of America. She has contributed articles to various educational journals.

Sister Rosamond

served as an associate editor on the staff of Hi-Time, a national Catholic Magazine for high school religion, and is the author of several books.

She came to Marygrove from the University of Arizona, Tucson, where she served as a counselor and teacher at the Newman Center.

Mother M. Agna appointed Sister Rosamond to Marygrove in response to Father Donnelly's request for Sisters to assist the Marquette diocese in its program of renewal according to Vatican II.

The Wednesday program is sponsored by the Newman Club of Bay de Noc College. Rev. August Franczek is chaplain.

Christmas Boxes To Vietnam Must Be Well Wrapped

Postal officials have expressed concern over poorly wrapped packages headed for Vietnam and other areas of the Pacific, reports Escanaba Postmaster James Pryal.

All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard, or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard. All fiberboard boxes should be securally wrapped in heavy paper which materially strengthens the package. Each box should be well tied with strong cord.

Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. Unless tightly filled, boxes may be crushed.

Parcels should be clearly adressed on one side only, and should have the address and return address written again inside the package in case the exterior wrapping should come off.

The postmaster noted that special attention will be placed on the delivery of mail to servicemen in Vietnam and the surrounding area, and stressed use of APO and FPO numbers on all overseas military mail.

The deadlines for gifts to all members of the Armed Forces are:

Space available (small packages) Nov. 23; parcel air lift, Nov. 30; and airmail, Dec. 11.

Letter size mail will receive approximately the same service as during non-peak periods.

Business Concern Is For Social Progress

NEW YORK (AP) — Early in the 1960s the most frequent topic in executive speeches was business - government relations. Today, just as clearly, the subject is the social responsibilities of business.

Although not an infallible guide, executive speeches by their nature do tend to reveal what businessmen consider most pressing or disturbing or most worthwhile.

The first topic resulted from business anger at what it considered to be interference by the Kennedy administration in the market place, specifically in the pricing of goods, an area which business felt to be its own alone.

The remarks were consistent: government and business should not intrude into each other's areas. Each had its role, and if they were to play these roles effectively they had best keep out of each other's sandbox.

The second topic shows how much business' attitude has changed in these few years, for in concerning itself with social progress, business is taking on a role that customarily has been handled by government.

Among the projects: restoring the core cities, improving education, reducing water-air-sound pollution, training dropouts — all areas of endeavor by corporations with a growing social awareness.

Although some of the problems are indeed business-created, seldom in the past has business on a large scale attempted to seek solutions, for that was considered the job of government.

Broadly speaking, there are two categories in which business is participating:

—First, as a corporate citizen concerned with the environment in which business exists and resolved to do something about it, even if it cuts into profits temporarily.

The insurance industry has pledged $1 billion toward the rehabilitation of core cities, for example, not unaware that if it doesn't improve its own neighborhoods it eventually will fail to obtain the clerks and secretaries it needs.

Just a few years ago many companies risked irritating stockholders by involving themselves. A reliable poll now shows 65 per cent of stockholders feel corporations should participate in the war on poverty.

Surprising to some companies, unexpected profits sometimes do result from activities in the social area. One company after another expresses surprise today at how training programs for dropouts are easing their labor shortage.

—Secondly, in search of profits. Perhaps belatedly, business has learned that there is money to be made in pollution control, in education, in slum rehabilitation.

The discovery, although new to most businessmen, was foreseen years ago by David Lilienthal, former chairman of both the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Lilienthal founded and now heads a private concern, Development and Resources Corp., that has been making healthy profits in areas once thought to be the sole responsibility of government.

Few Missing In Docking Mishap

MANILA (AP) — A docking collision sank an interisland passenger boat at Cebu in the central Philippines Monday. Early reports said 200 passengers were missing, but later it appeared that less than 10 were unaccounted for.

The passenger ferry Irina broke apart and sank minutes after a collision with the Eastern Moon, a 5,338-ton British freighter out of Hong Kong.

A national police officer at Cebu, about 300 miles from Manila, said only 30 passengers were aboard, and at least 26 of them had been rescued along with the entire crew. Earlier reports said 200 persons were aboard and at least six bodies had been recovered.

The Manila Daily Mirror said 46 persons had been saved and that no dead had been found. Rescue divers were being hampered by stiff winds, rough water and oil slicks, the Mirror said.

The Irina reportedly was pulling away from the dock in a heavy rain when the collision with the incoming freighter occurred.

Speck Receives Chromosome Test

CHICAGO (AP) — Attorney Gerald W. Getty confirmed Sunday that convicted slayer Richard Speck has undergone tests to determine whether he possesses a chromosome abnormality which some scientists believe is the cause of criminality in some persons. Getty declined to reveal the results.

Getty is the public defender appealing the conviction in 1967 of Speck for the murder of eight student nurses two years ago in a South Side townhouse. Speck was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Getty said he would release the results of the tests after a decision is made by the Illinois Supreme Court on the appeal, which was argued Sept. 25. All death sentences are automatically appealed under Illinois law.

More than 1,500 asteroids are known to exist. Largest of these is Ceres, 500 miles in diameter.

Election Costs Must Be Filed

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare today reminded candidates in the recent election—winners and losers—that they must file itemized expense statements by Nov. 25.

Winners who fail to file the statements will not be issued certificates of election which, Hare said, "might cause embarrassment since (they) would not be able to take office."

Losers who do not file are guilty of a misdemeanor.

Statements must be filed with the county clerk of the candidate's county of residence. Political committees must file statements with the county clerk in which the committee treasurer lives.

Rebuild Watts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Watts, which still bears bombing and fire scars from the 1965 riot, would be rebuilt and new homes and apartments sold back to Negro families under a plan before the City Council.

Edgar L. Law Jr., project manager, said before Monday's public hearing that wider streets and a major shopping complex as well as modern living quarters would be built. He said 1,800 residents would be given temporary housing, then sold new homes.

Law said the five-year project will cost $5 to $7 in private funds for every federal dollar.

The plan has been revamped several times. Some opponents have accused the planners of "Negro removal" tactics.

The octopus will grow a new tentacle if one is torn off.

Soviets In Need Of Sex Education Says Educator

MOSCOW (AP) — A leading Soviet educator called today for sex education and child care courses in high schools to offset a growing number of unhappy young Soviet families.

Writing in the Communist party newspaper Pravda, E. Kostyashkin, chief of the section on Communist education at the Soviet Union's Academy of Pedagogical Sciences, complained that the question of sex education had been widely discussed in the press but nothing has been done about it.

"How do we explain that despite the significant improvement in material condition and welfare of families, despite the higher cultural level of parents and the significant satisfying of demands for preschool establishments, many of my former students did not find happiness in family life?" he asked.

"We teachers taught them to like labor, books, public work, but we didn't teach them how to behave in daily life, in a family with children."

Slippery Roads Cause Mishaps

James Marks, 26, 320 N. Third St., was cited for violation of the basic speed law on Saturday after he lost control of his auto and struck some trees and a fence on County Road 440, south of the Copenhagen Bridge near Indian Lake.

Marks told troopers of the Michigan State Police that he lost control of his auto while swerving to avoid hitting a squirrel in the roadway.

Donna Tanguay, 21, lost control of a pickup truck she was driving, went into a deep ditch and rolled over, on Sunday afternoon on County Road 442, east of M-149, Mrs. Tanguay, who lives at 516 Park Ave., was cited by officers of the Michigan State Police for violation of the basic speed law. No injuries were reported and the vehicle was towed to a service station in Cooks.

An auto failed to negotiate a curve on U.S. 2 near the Valley Nursery on Sunday at 12:35 p.m. and went off the road and struck some guardrails. Driver of the car was James Picklo, 44, of Dearborn Heights, who was westbound on U.S. 2 when the mishap occurred. Picklo's auto was towed from the scene and no injuries or tickets were reported.

Ernest Monroe, 73, Weberville, Mich., was driving on the Highway Truck Trail in Doyle Township on Sunday at 1 p.m. when he met another car and to avoid a collision pulled off the Trail and into some trees. Monroe told troopers the Trail was very slippery and he was unable to stop. No tickets were issued and no report of injuries or property damage.

Slippery roads were blamed for a car-trailer accident on U.S. 2 at Ferina Creek in Doyle Township on Sunday afternoon at 3:05 p.m. Frank Solski, 46, of Bloomfield Hills, told troopers a trailer he was pulling began to swerve and, after applying the brakes on his auto, the car went out of control. The car-trailer went off the roadway with the trailer sustaining some damage. A passenger in the auto, John King, 65, Wallston, Mich., complained of injuries but sought his own treatment. No tickets were issued.

Jane Russell's Husband Dies, 47

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — An apparent heart seizure caused the death Monday of actor Roger Barrett, 47, who married actress Jane Russell less than three months ago.

Miss Russell, 47, and Barrett returned just last week from a four-week honeymoon and, for her, a performance tour of English night clubs.

Miss Russell was divorced last July from Bob Waterfield, the former pro football star, after 25 years of marriage.

Barrett complained of intense pain about 7:30 a.m. and Miss Russell ran to a sister-in-law's nearby home for help. When she returned, Barrett apparently was dead. The crew of a fire department rescue ambulance listed the possible cause of death as a heart attack.

Grid Bowl Positions Filled In Rapid Order

By The Associated Press

A warning to all wives: If you're contemplating any activity that will force your football-loving husband to leave the boob tube on New Year's Day, you might as well forget it now.

The sponsors of that annual first-of-the-year madness—the college bowl games—have lined up some highly palatable fare for a day-long football feast.

Under an NCAA rule, Monday was the first official day bowl sponsors could issue invitations—and berths for the Orange, Sugar, Cotton, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls were filled in rapid-fire order. Unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Kansas, both boasting crunching ground attacks, were paired in Miami's nighttime Orange Bowl, while the Cotton and Sugar bowls lined up matches between the top two powers in the Southeastern and Southwest conferences.

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas picked eighth-ranked Tennessee to meet the underdog champion of the Southwest Conference, either Texas or Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans pulled a coup and lured Southeastern Conference champ Georgia from the Orange Bowl.

Officials said they wouldn't name a foe until after Thanksgiving Day, indicating they were awaiting the outcome of Texas' last game against Texas A&M, which will determine the final Southwest standings.

If Arkansas should beat Texas Tech this week and Texas stops the Aggies, then Texas would get the bid since the Longhorns whipped Arkansas during the regular season.

Arkansas will get the nod if it wins and Texas loses, and if both leaders loses it will throw the race into confusion, producing a broad range of alternatives.

Top-ranked Southern California, 8-0, already has clinched a trip to the granddaddy of the New Year's classics—the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.—by winning the Pacific 8 title.

The Trojans will face the Big Ten champion—to be decided in a big showdown this weekend between second-ranked and unbeaten Ohio State and No. 4 and once-beaten Michigan.

Grand Rapids JC Accepts Bowl Bid

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids Junior College has accepted an invitation to play Henderson County Community College of Athens, Tex., in the Wool Bowl football game at Roswell, N.M., Dec. 7.

The Grand Rapids Raiders were 8-1 over the last season and Henderson County 8-2.

The Wool Bowl is one of four sanctioned for its members by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Pro Track League In Forming Stage

By The Associated Press

If two young law school graduates from California have their way, track stars will start running for money next year in track and field's first professional league.

Plans for a 30-meet, three-month season starting next June and including many U.S. Olympic stars and foreign athletes, who will compete for $4 million in prize money, were disclosed Monday night by league organizers Jerry Sherman and Mike Heaman, both of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

The two 29-year-old idea men said they have interested numerous wealthy businessmen throughout the country in the proposed league, which they also hope will attract athletes from other sports.

"We hope to use the National Collegiate Athletic Association as our farm system," said Heaman. "And we're not out to kill the AAU or the Olympics. Athletes still can compete in the Olympics while in college."

"But this association will be set up for the benefit of the track athlete, and that's something that's been long overdue," Sid Sherman, one of the backers, said. "We think that pro track also may induce athletes like Wilt Chamberlain, Bob Hayes and Jimmy Hines to compete in addition to their regular sports."

"We already have option agreements from about 50 athletes," said Jerry Sherman, "and that includes about 15 members of the U.S. Olympic team." Some of them, he said, are half milers Wade Bell and Tom Farrell, high jumper Ed Caruthers, long jumpers Bob Beamon and Charlie Mays and sprinter Mel Pender.

They also mentioned Jesse Owens, U.S. star at the 1936 Olympics, as a possible commissioner of the league, to be called the National Track and Field Association.

Cities listed for possible franchises were New York, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland for an Eastern Division, and Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Portland, Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston for a Western Division.

Their plans call for athletes to be signed to one-year contracts at $0,000, with the opportunity to win as much as $90,000 in prize money.

Trenary Opens Home Schedule

TRENARY — The Perkins Yellowjackets will provide the opposition Wednesday night as the Trenary Comets open their home schedule following an 85-57 victory at Rock Friday night in the opening game of the season.

Disciplinary actions and ineligibility have cut the Comets' roster to a minimum and there was some doubt whether or not Trenary would be able to put a team on the court Friday night at Rock.

Coach Steve Ellis came up with six seniors, three juniors and a sophomore on his roster, which proved to be a winning combination in the Rock game.

Listed on the Trenary roster were seniors Greg Begovac, Gary Hager, Tim Harris, Clyde Dartt, Don Joles and Kent Bush; juniors Alvin Aho, Herbert Harris and Donald Sandstrom and sophomore David Martin. Only Tim Harris saw regular service last season and Sandstrom and Hager were used as reserves.

Begovac, Sandstrom, Hager and Martin all scored in double figures against Rock with Begovac leading the way with 24 points. Perkins was also victorious in their opening game, topping Grand Marais, 83-54.

The Trenary schedule:

Nov. 20 — Perkins
Nov. 22 — Grand Marais
Nov. 27 — Eben
Dec. 3 — Bark River
Dec. 10 — at Big Bay de Noc
Jan. 8 — at Perkins
Jan. 10 — Chassell

Jan. 24 — Big Bay de Noc
Feb. 4 — Rock

Here are some second thoughts:

We could add hobby hauler to the list. Chevy trucks are great for rock hounding. Collecting antiques. Etcetera.

The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or off. Especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere.

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8 1/2' box on some models. Great for big campers.

Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-inch.

On The Sidelines With Mike Utt

Rudy Steiner, former Iron Mountain football great and Back of the Year in the U. P. a year ago, tossed two touchdown passes for the University of Wisconsin freshmen team in a big scrimmage contest. Steiner is locked in a duel for the number one quarterback spot on the frosh with Neil Graff of Sioux Falls, S. D., and both will be trying for that spot on the Badger varsity next fall.

Mickey Holmes of West Iron County, an end on the All-U. P. Offensive Team this season, scored 20 points and grabbed 14 rebounds in the Wykons' victory over Bessemer Friday night. Brian Ciesieczny, an offensive end on the Class C-D All-U. P. Team, scored 21 points for Bessemer.

Tom Tischer and Richard Bailey formed a potent one-two scoring punch for the DeTour Red Raiders in the Raiders' 70-48 win over the Rapid River Rockets Friday night at DeTour. Bailey led his team in scoring with 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws. Tischer was close behind with 18 points on seven field goals and four free throws. Tischer was also the big man in the rebounding department for the Red Raiders as he pulled down 25.

Dave Wickstrom and Larry Dunklee of Munising, both honorable mentions of the All-U. P. football team, are aiming for a higher berth on the All-U. P. basketball team after leading the Mustangs to a 73-51 victory over Marquette Friday night. Dunklee topped all scorers on the floor with 23 points and Wickstrom chipped in with 15. Class A-B All-U. P. quarterback Dave Nyquist tossed aside his football togs and paced Marquette with 19 points.

The late seconds of athletic contests have proved to be a Nemesis for the Newberry Indians thus far this year. The Indians lost one football game in the final nine seconds, were tied in another in the final seconds and lost a basketball game to the Soo Loretto Angels Friday night, 44-38, in overtime. With 24 seconds left in regulation play, Tim Bonino of Soo Loretto tied the game at 37-37 and sent it into overtime. The Indians were outscored in overtime play, 7-1.

The Menominee Maroons open defense of their U. P. basketball title on Wednesday, November 27, at Kingsford and for the first time in four years without Pat Miller in the lineup. This year's squad will be built around three-year veterans Dave Haglund and Dewey Bellisle. Maroon coach Bob Krysiak admits the team will miss Miller's scoring and leadership but thinks this year's team will be better balanced.

Copper Country Teams Rated Class C Power

The Copper Country Conference, which annually stages one of the most exciting high school basketball races in the Upper Peninsula, looks ready to produce another top contender for regional Class C honors.

Houghton and Hancock—the two friendly rivals facing each other across the Portage waterway—and Ontonagon all seem to have enough power to carry them a long way in the 1968-69 campaign.

With Wakefield, the school which dominated Class C play in four of the last five years, dropped to a lower division by a change in classification limits, the Copper Country could move into the driver's seat strictly on the basis of experienced material remaining from a year ago.

Of the four Class C quintets in this league, only L'Anse possibly may not be a big threat in conference and tournament contention. However, the Purple Hornets, who ruled the Peninsula in 1966, have a very young club which undoubtedly will improve as the season goes along.

All of the Copper Country's Class C outfits were down a bit a year ago, taking a back seat to three smaller schools, Baraga, Dollar Bay and Painesdale, in conference play. Hancock was the only one to emerge victorious in district competition, but was quickly knocked off in the regional tournament.

Hancock this year has two 6-foot-3 cagers who could make the Bulldogs one of the better scoring outfits. Dick Salani, all-around athlete who hit for 387 points last year, may be one of the Peninsula's top producers this winter. Up front with him is Bill Tarbox.

Houghton has two juniors, Brian Salo and Gary Lange, who could bring the Grem-lins back to the glory road they traveled in the early '60s. Ontonagon, beating Wakefield in the season's opener, has a lot of experienced material in Dan Floyd, Bill Fezzey, Gene Fiszler and Jim Picotie.

Lake Linden also will be in the thick of the Copper Country race, but will be in Class D in post-season play.

Two of the big games in the CCC this week will send Hancock to Calumet and Houghton to Lake Linden.

The U. P. schedule: Tuesday—Chassell at Lake Linden, Bergland at Watersmeet, Marenisco at Mercer, Wis., Ewen-Trout Creek at White Pine, Hancock at L'Anse, Newberry at Munising.

Wednesday—Perkins at Trenary.

Friday—Bergland at Chassell, Baraga at Painesdale, Hermansville at Bark River, Watersmeet at Marenisco, DeTour at Sauli Loretto, Engadine at Cedarville, Eben at Big Bay de Noc, National Mine at Felch, Brimley at Rudyard, Ewen-Trout Creek at Crystal Falls, Powers vs. Channing at Kingsford, Champion at Carney, L'Anse at Ontonagon, Hancock at Calumet, Ironwood at Hurley, Wis., Manistique at Sault Ste. Marie, Bessemer at Wakefield, Houghton at Lake Linden, Ironwood Catholic at Prentice, Wis., Negaunee at Newberry, Republic at Pembine, Wis., Kingsford at Ishpeming, Escanaba at Marquette.

Saturday—Engadine at Rapid River.

DeTour's Tischer Receives All-State 1st Team Berth

By The Associated Press

What the 1968 Class D All-State high school football team lacks in size it more than makes up for in talent.

This year's Associated Press All-State eleven averages a mere 184 pounds, but its combined talents, if put together for actual competition, would surely devastate the best high school grid squad in the country.

The 11 named to this year's first team are: ends Tim Tischer of DeTour and Bill Morgan of Au Gres, tackles Jon Weston of Waterford Our Lady of Lakes and Barry Metevia of Saginaw St. Mary, center John Burgett of Grass Lake, guards Ruben Chavez of Pottersville and Larry Johnson of New Lothrop, quarterback Reggie Trombly of Mount Clemens St. Louis and running backs Steve Ives of St. Joseph Catholic, Greg Allen of Mendon and Harold Bailey of Sand Creek.

Tischer is the smallest of the players. He stands 5-foot-9 and weighs only 155. But despite his size he is considered the most outstanding offensive end in the Upper Peninsula. He helped lead DeTour to a 7-0-1 record and an AP state football championship this year. He teamed with quarterback Martin Ledy and caught 40 passes for 768 yards and 14 touchdowns.

On defense Tischer intercepted eight passes and returned them 42 yards.

Ledy, a 5-foot-5, 145-pound junior, was named second-team All-State quarterback.

Morgan led Au Gres to a 7-1 record, including a tough victory over an Atlanta team that had been rated high all year. Morgan, a B-plus student, is the biggest member of the All-State squad. He stands 6-foot-4 and weighs 240 pounds.

Hard working tackle Jon Weston of Waterford Our Lady of Lakes was a powerful offensive and defensive blocker who averaged 13 solo tackles a game. The four-year regular captained the squad this season and is an honor roll student.

The other tackle, Barry Metevia of Saginaw St. Mary, collected 47 unassisted tackles during the season and recovered six fumbles.

Coach John Seckinger of Grass Lake says center John Burgett is an excellent college prospect and that he has already accepted an offer from Michigan State, Grass Lake, with Burgett's help, chalked up a 9-0 record compared to last season's 0-8-1 mark.

"He's got real good speed, he's quick, and he played for three years without ever giving a bad center on a punt, field goal, or extra point play," Seckinger said.

Chavez and Johnson both are only 5-foot-10, 165 and 170 pounds respectively. Chavez is a strong tackler who starred for three years at Pottersville, while Johnson chalked up 43 unassisted tackles.

Trombly's quarterback statistics are impressive. In the last two years he completed 106 of 179 passes for 2,215 yards and

Buckeye Coach Silent About 'Our Opponent'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes isn't talking much about Michigan these days. But everyone knows what the Ohio State football coach is thinking.

The Buckeyes and the Wolverines clash in Ohio Stadium Saturday in a showdown match that will decide the Big Ten championship and the opponent for Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

The setting is similar to the 1964 windup when Michigan came into Columbus with a 5-1 league record and Ohio was 5-0. When the smoke cleared, the Wolves prevailed 10-0 in the winner-take-all duel.

Hayes knows who the opponent is Saturday but he didn't mention Michigan by name at his Monday luncheon.

"Sark (assistant coach Esco Sarkkinen) can tell you more about our opponent this week than I can," he said.

The dean of Big Ten coaches reported that all hands were expected to be ready Saturday.

"Ron Johnson has good size, speed, agility and balance," Sarkkinen noted. "But his extraordinary physique gives him the ability to shake off tacklers. He cuts well and picks up his blockers impressively."

The Buckeye scout also singled out quarterback Dennis

Cal's 8-0 record, held the runner-up spot, picking up seven first place ballots, but slipped farther behind the Trojans in points, 704-636. The leaders had a 44-point margin over the Buckeyes last week.

Penn State, 8-0, Michigan, 8-1, and Georgia, 7-0-2, remained third, fourth and fifth, with the Nittany Lions receiving two firsts and the Bulldogs one following impressive triumphs. Penn State trampled Maryland 57-13 and Georgia stopped Auburn 17-3.

Michigan, which meets Ohio State Saturday for the Big Ten Conference championship, whipped Wisconsin 34-9.

Texas, 7-1-1 following a 47-2 romp over Texas Christian, jumped from eighth to sixth place while Missouri, No. 6 before bowing to Oklahoma 28-4, fell to 13th.

Kansas held the No. 7 spot, with Tennessee moving up from 11th to eighth, Arkansas climbing one notch to ninth and Notre Dame, No. 9 a week ago, slipping to No. 10. The Jayhawks topped Kansas State 38-29, Tennessee mauled Mississippi 31-0, Arkansas outscored Southern Methodist 35-29 and the Irish flattened Georgia Tech 34-6.

Houston claimed the 11th spot following a 77-3 rout of Idaho. Purdue, Missouri, Oklahoma, Alabama, Oregon State, Ohio University, California, Auburn and Wyoming completed the Top Twenty.

Points were awarded for each selector's top 15 picks on a staggered scale beginning with 20 for a first-place vote.

stead of around them," said Condon. Bailey often blocked for his brother Paul, a junior halfback who gained more than 600 yards rushing.

Ives broke through and around opposing lines for 1,207 yards rushing for a 5.8 average. He scored a phenomenal 120 points. Most of them came from his 15 touchdowns and the rest from extra points.

"When he's not carrying the ball his faking and blocking are essential to our game," says coach Terry Rose, who enjoyed a fine 7-2 record this year at St. Joseph Catholic.

Hull Captures Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull's 22nd career hat trick has helped the Chicago superstar open up an eight-point lead over St. Louis's Red Berenson and Detroit's Gordie Howe in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Hull banged in three goals against Pittsburgh last Thursday night, moving within four hat tricks of Maurice Richard's all-time NHL mark, and finished the week with league-leading totals of 14 goals and 32 points.

Berenson, who had scored six goals in one game the previous week, and Howe, whose 18 assists give him a share of the playmaking lead with Hull, each have 24 points.

Tied for fourth, with 23 apiece, are Montreal's Jean Beliveau and Chicago's Stan Mikita, the defending point champ.

Bob Nevin of New York and Jim Pappin of Chicago are next with 22 each, followed by Detroit's Alex Delvecchio, with 19.

Johnny Bower and Bruce Gamble of Toronto moved into the top spot in the race for goal-tending honors. The Maple Leaf goalies have combined for a low yield of 2.07 goals per game. Veterans Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall of St. Louis are in second place at 2.23.

Plante shares the shutout lead with New York's Ed Giacomin, each having posted two white-wash jobs.

Rookie defenseman Jim Dorey of Toronto remains the most penalized player in the circuit with a total of 76 minutes. Boston is the team leader with an age of 19.3 penalty minutes per game.

Civil Service Announces $24.1-Million Pay Hike

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Service Commission today announced tentative plans for a $24.1-million pay increase next July for Michigan's 43,000 classified workers.

The increase, 6.9 per cent over current wages, is to include additional fringe benefits totaling more than $2.67 million.

The tentative plan is subject to a public hearing, final decision by the commission on Dec. 2 and review by the Legislature. Lawmakers have 60 days in which to amend or reject the plan, which otherwise becomes law July 1.

"We don't expect everybody to be satisfied but we think package realistically approaches the public need for a reasonable level and quality of service in a tight labor market and an expanding economy."

Pay hikes under the tentative plan range from 5.5 per cent to eight per cent for over 90 per cent of all employees.

Generally above-average increases were recommended in employment groups where there was continued large demand and short supply or where there was high turnover, the commission said.

These groups included trades classes, teachers, physicians, psychiatrists and some unskilled and semiskilled institution service classes.

Institution workers for instance would get a 24-cent increase at the maximum to $2.75.

Top awards, to be made without regard for the student's financial need, will be one $4,000 Edgar L. Harden Scholarship, and five other $1,560 scholarships.

Participants are required to have a cumulative academic average of at least 3.5 (B plus) or rank in the top five of their graduating class or be National Merit semifinalists.

Participating students must have an application for admission to Northern on file at NMU no later than Monday, Nov. 25.

Germany Clamps Curb On Exports

BONN, Germany (AP) — Leaving the mark at its present value, the government announced tonight plans to clamp on immediate taxation measures to curb exports and ease imports to help the international balance of payments situation.

The chief government spokesman, Gunter Diehl, said Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger had decided against revaluation of the mark after urgent consultations with his top advisors.

There has been pressure to revalue the mark upward in relation to the dollar. Earlier today Germany's central bank was buying dollars at 3.97 marks to the dollar.

This is an intervention point, where the bank steps in to stabilize the situation.

Speculation about possible revaluation had sent the pound sterling today to 9.459 marks, against Monday's closing at 9.462.

On Monday the central bank, the Bundesbank, absorbed an estimated $200 million in dollars and other currencies converted into marks.

Speculative Frenzy Subsides For Franc

the situation was unchanged from Monday, with continuing pressure on dollars, pounds and French francs caused by speculation that the German mark would be revalued.

However, in Brussels dealers predicted that the mark speculation was bound to slow down because dealers found it increasingly costly to hold large amounts of German currency in expectation of a revaluation that might never come.

Nonetheless, Couve de Murville's television statement did little to convince financial experts in France that the government was in a position to put its economic house in order with austerity measures. Some expressed open skepticism that Couve de Murville's assurance of unlimited international backing for the franc would do anything to stop the speculation on a mark revaluation which they see as the principal immediate cause of the monetary crisis.

Resolved By Deeds

In an attempt to re-establish confidence in French currency, Couve de Murville said "international solidarity" was not in doubt and "France will have all the support it needs without reservation." But one prominent Paris banker considered the premier's remarks vague and said: "One doesn't resolve a crisis of confidence by words but by deeds."

There also was no announcement of aid for the franc from the meeting of central bankers in Basel, Switzerland.

"If anything concrete had been decided (at Basel) Couve would have said so," said another banker.

Speculators exchanged an estimated $1 billion worth of French francs, British pounds, American dollars and other currencies for West German marks last week, anticipating an upward revaluation of the mark and devaluation of the franc.

Franc Suffers Most

The franc, weakened by the aftermath of last spring's student-worker upheaval, suffered the most damage.

Bonn and Frankfurt have denied that the mark will be revalued, and the French government insisted that the franc would not be devalued.

The French stock exchange remained firm Monday, reflecting confidence that a franc devaluation would be avoided.

Couve de Murville referred to the situation as an "international monetary crisis" rather than a French crisis.

"The international monetary system is sick," he said. "The malady must be cured by an agreement among all interested countries. Unhappily this has not been done. However, this doesn't prevent the existence of international solidarity."

United Front On Housing Law

LANSING (AP) — State officials, realtors and homebuilders showed a united front against housing discrimination Monday as they lauded the new statewide open housing law.

The law, which took effect Friday, outlaws discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

Gov. George Romney, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, state party officials and representatives of labor, the real estate and homebuilding industries attended a celebration luncheon.

"One of the purposes of this meeting is to show anyone who still harbors any hopes of discriminating that they no longer have any place to go," said Gordon Hanna, information director for the State Department of Civil Rights.

"We're all united on this score," he added.

Social Justice

As Romney and Kelley hailed the new law as a major move toward social justice, another state official challenged the real estate industry to "lead the way" against discrimination.

"We are telling these people that obedience (to the law) is not enough," said Lenton G. Sculthorp, director of state licensing and regulation.

"Now is the time for the real estate and building industries to lead the way in breaking up unfairness and discrimination."

"The public feels that it is the realtors and builders who make public policy in this area and the public is now looking to them for leadership," he said.

"Realtors of Michigan will continue to be lawabiding citizens," replied Ty Carter, a Kalamazoo city commissioner and vice president of the 8,500-member Michigan Real Estate Association.

They will "accord no deference or discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin," he said. They will adhere to their own code of ethics and maintain "complete neutrality in all transactions," he said.

Albert Wheeler, president of the Michigan NAACP branches, spoke as "a somewhat disillusioned... black person."

Shoe On Other Foot

Wheeler said he favored the fair housing law "because it would put the shoe on the other foot—meaning the black man can now seek his rights under the law."

Wheeler said he had opposed the law because such rights already are covered by the 1966 civil rights law, because there are exemptions in the open housing law and "because the only black people who can really avail themselves of the protection of the new law are those with an education and money."

He urged elimination of exemptions in the law—which included rooms in private homes, two-unit apartment buildings and occupancy of one of two units by the owner or lessor.

Detroit Edison Declares Dividend

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Edison Co. declared Monday a 35 cents per share dividend on common stock and $1.375 per share on convertible preferred stock, payable Jan. 15, 1969 to shareholders of record on Dec. 20, 1968.

Scout Jamboree Meeting Called

Adventure awaits more than 42,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders who will participate in the 7th National Jamboree, July 16-22, 1969, at Farragut State Park, Idaho. A wide variety of activities will back up the jamboree theme, "Building To Serve."

Glenn Tollefson, scoutmaster of Troop 408 sponsored by Bethany Lutheran Church in Escanaba has been chosen by the Hiawathaland Council Camping and Activities committee to be one of the three adult leaders of the Hiawathaland Jamboree Troop.

Tollefson said a meeting will be held at the Bethany Lutheran Church, 202 S. 11th St., Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. for any Scouts and their parents who would like to learn more details of the jamboree. Applications are still available.

A movie of the 6th National Jamboree will be shown and refreshments will be served.

Purpose of the jamboree is to give participants an opportunity to rededicate themselves to the principles of Scouting—service to home, community, nation, and religion—expressed in the theme, "Building To Serve."

Among the activities in the rugged mountain country of Idaho will be arena shows, campfires, skill-o-ramas, exhibits, archery, and instruction areas. For the first time at a national jamboree, a complete aquatics program will be offered including boating, canoeing, swimming, and fishing. A Scout booster in Idaho will provide 32,000 live rainbow trout for the fishing program.

The ceremony was held at the Hotel Pierre, headquarters of President-elect Richard M. Nixon, who sharply criticized the attorney general during the campaign.

Youths Arrested After High Speed Highway Chase

A chase at speeds up to 100 miles per hour on Federal Forest Highway 13 resulted in fines and court costs totaling $115 for two Munising youths Monday in Municipal Court in Escanaba.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said Conservation Officer Thomas Safford of Ensign signed complaints against Bruce A. Cromell, 18, of Munising, for speeding and being a minor in possession of beer, and Robert B. Hanson, 19, Munising, for being a minor in possession after the chase Sunday night.

Cromell was fined $50 and assessed $5 court costs by Judge James Fitzharris on the speeding charge and fined $25 and $5 court costs for being a minor in possession of beer. Hanson paid $25 and $5 for being a minor in possession. Both pleaded guilty.

State Police also reported that Donald Lambert, 20, Rte. 1, Gladstone; Peggy Olson, 19, of 609 N. 7th St., Gladstone, and Pamela Smoot, 19, of 614 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, have been ordered to appear before Justice Ross Davis on charges of being minors in possession of beer.

Troopers said the arrest was made after Lambert's car was halted by a patrol on County Rd. 420 just inside the Gladstone city limits about 12:05 a.m. Monday.

Losse Resigns Office At P&H

Joseph J. Halbach of Dallas, Tex., has been named vice-president for personnel, industrial and public relations at Harnischfeger Corp., Milwaukee.

He succeeds Robert O. Losse, who resigned last month.

Halbach, 38, previously was corporate industrial relations counsel for Texas Instruments Inc.

From 1956 to 1961, he was with Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp., as a personnel manager and a senior industrial relations supervisor.

Losse is a former manager of the Escanaba Construction Division operations of Harnischfeger Corp., and the family lived here for several years in the 1950's before he was called to Milwaukee to be named vice president-personnel and industrial relations.

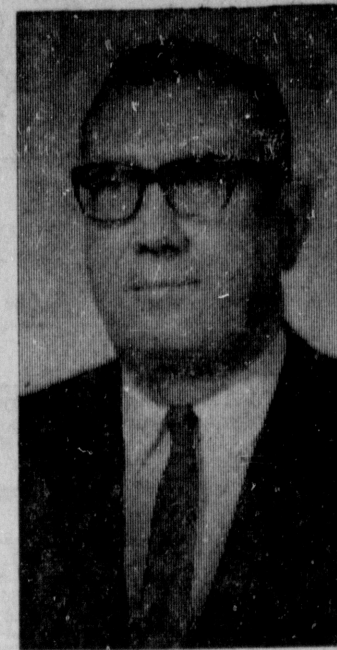

Losse's resignation was caused by health reasons. He is convalescing after several heart attacks.

Agnew Returns

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew returned Monday after a vacation in Puerto Rico. He and his family and friends arrived via an Air Force plane at Friendship International Airport.

The governor spent a week at Dorado Beach and also played golf at St. Croix in the Virgin Islands.

Closed-Circuit TV For Sirhan Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Unless the defense or prosecution objects, closed circuit television will be used to accommodate an overflow crowd of newsmen at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan on charges of slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Judge Herbert V. Walker of Superior Court, who will preside at the trial, made the disclosure Monday. He said he will hold a hearing, probably next week, to see if there are any objections.

The defense, at the same hearing, is expected to ask another postponement. The trial now is scheduled to start Dec. 9.

Workmen have installed steel plates over the windows. The courtroom seats only 75, and Judge Walker said there have been more than 100 requests from "responsible news media" for the 35 seats available for newsmen.
